

Having fun with Halloween Decorating!

Do you do any decorating for Halloween? My youngest LOVES Halloween! She is a senior in high school and since this is her last year at home, I've decided to pull out ALL the boxes from the garage. We are going BIG for this holiday.

The mummies are by the front door.

Mr. Bones has two new companions this year.

And the graveyard is back, with a gargoyle nearby.

I TOLD YOU
I WAS SICK.

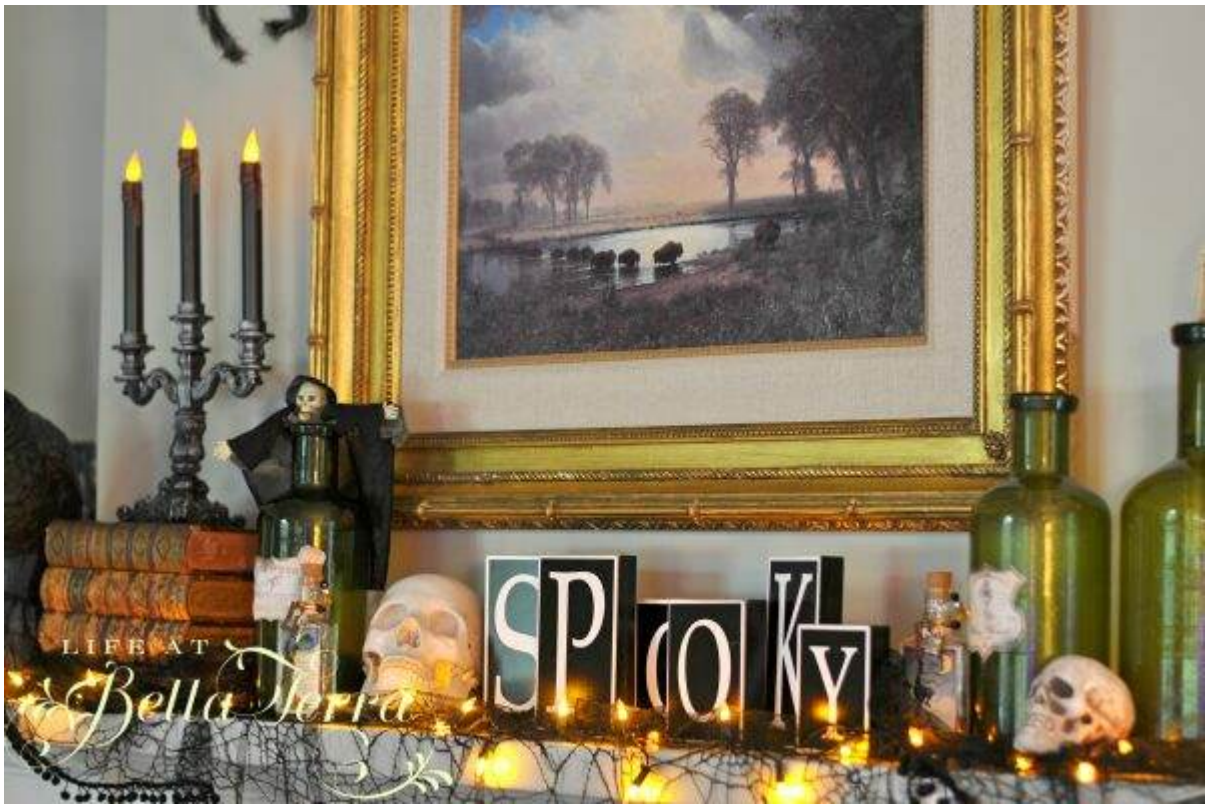

LIFE
Bella Terra

The dining room gets the bulk of the decorations. The raven is motion-sensitive. Its red eyes light up and head moves, while cawing.

The deep mantle allows for old books, chemistry bottles, skulls, and lights.

What is Halloween without a really large spider?

The buffet has been transformed with witches, skulls, libations and crows.

LIFE AT

Bella Terra

We haven't finished decorating...yet but are having fun with the mice!

There is a benefit to taking out all the Halloween boxes. I've been going through them, sorting and organizing and donating. Three children and multiple Halloweens equals way too much stuff. I am enjoying decorating with my 17-year old as next year she will be away at college ☐

Mary

Dog and cat skeleton, raven – Home Depot

Candelabras-Home Depot

Mr. Bones and tombstone-back in the day that Restoration Hardware had cool things

Mouse cut-outs- Martha Stewart

Mummies- Grandinrod