

Don't you just LOVE a bargain??

I love a bargain, especially an unexpected one! During a simple grocery shopping trip to Safeway a few months back, I stumbled upon a 75% off display of floral items. Not that I need any more vases, but I was so drawn to the cool, serene blue color of these glass ones designed by Debi Lilly. I purchased 6, yes 6 of the smaller ones at $3.25 each and the two larger ones were $3.75.

on't they just make you happy? I also bought the most beautiful white roses with a pale pink blush to the petals. Hard to believe the flowers cost more than the container but I'm thrilled with my discovery! It's nice to find unique items in ordinary places and at such a great price.

, I worked for a company that had fresh flowers delivered to everyone's desk each week. Flowers add such an elegant touch to every environment. Wouldn't this make a great hostess gift or a "just because" gift to a friend or family member?

I hope you have a bargain story of your own. Also, treat yourself to some flowers ~~you deserve it!
